I thought I ought to give some sort of accounting of what we are doing. However, there is a certain truth in the statement, "You are bearing witness of yourself; your witness is untrue" (Jn. 8:13), so I thought it better to allow some of the students tell you themselves what they think of me and how I am doing (Yes, I know its dangerous to ask that sort of question, what else could I do?)

Herman Oxendine: "Well, what can I say?"

Bro. Flood, Bro. John, Bro. John Flood or Instructor John Flood, it's all the same. He is the kind of fellow you would like to have on your side in time of trouble. Bro.

John is a good instructor, hard, but fair is one way to describe him. We don't always agree on everything, but he is one that respects you and encourages you to think for yourself. "Honest" is another way to describe Bro. John, and he expects no less from others. Also he seems to fit right in our Indian Culture here in North Carolina at NABC."

Isabel Lopez: "Brother John Flood is an outstanding professor. He really cares for the students and pushes them to do their best. But there is one thing you have to know about him, if you do not like to do work, or if you do not like to be pressured, do not take his courses, because you will definitely have a lot of work, which brings a lot of pressure to you. The work is very tedious (she's talking about the hermeneutics course = good Bible study), but at the end you will appreciate it. Trust me! You end his course with great understanding and knowledge that you did not have before. It is worth doing the work!"

Artlis Locklear: "What I think about Bro. Flood's class is it is a very good class and I am learning a lot in his class. One of the problems in the class is to do the homework, it is very time consuming. But the thing about it is you learn a lot by doing the work."

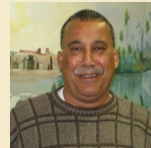

Danny Sencenbaugh: "Greetings in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ from Native American Bible College in Shannon, NC. We would like to take the time to share a few words of gratitude to those responsible for allowing Bro. John Flood to share his word of wisdom about Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior with us. He is mightily used of God and we thoroughly enjoy his instruction in the Word of God, it is of much value and benefit to us and greatly appreciated. We have found that his time is well spent with us and others as he joyously shares his wealth of knowledge with us. He is a great asset to the college and a great friend indeed."

John Walker: "I have participated in two classes with Bro. Flood. I have been truly challenged and stretched for the glory of God. Sometimes I think I know a little, but sitting in Bro. Flood's class I have realized the vastness of the Word of God; my eyes have been opened and my mind enlightened. When in his class you are involved in hands on work, lectures, PowerPoint presentations and open discussion. No class is the same and it makes you want to come back for the next session." Larry Locklear: "I thank my God for NABC. It has been an inspiration to me when I have been taught the Word of God under the teachings of instructor John Flood. He teaches with the highest inspiration, that we may receive the qualification this school has to offer us as students. He has enriched the lives of those he has taught by reaching out to them with love and compassion by

ON A PERSONAL NOTE

I am continuing to love teaching and as you can see am apparently fairly well tolerated.

The situation with Caleb's schooling hit critical mass when 2 kids from the school chased him home one day and continued to walk by our home again and again with one looking in our windows and making threatening gestures at Theresa (I was not home at that point). We petitioned the school district to have him moved to the high school one town over and our petition was granted. He is no longer being threatened and he actually comes home telling us that he "loves school!" An added bonus is that he now does homework without our having to check up on him too much!

Thank-you all for your prayers for Theresa and her family, they have made it through the first & hardest phase of the grieving process. We appreciate your continued prayers for her step-father Mike as he continues to struggle with pancreatic cancer.

Lastly, we added a new member to the family,

he is part Chihuahua, part Jack Russell terrier. Meet Wilbur!
